CONCERNING THE REPEAL OF DUPLICATE REPORTING REQUIREMENTS.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds that:

(a) Federal law already requires employers to collect and maintain I-9 forms to ensure that each employee is legally eligible for employment in the United States;

(b) Colorado has an additional requirement that forces all employers to complete and maintain an employment verification affirmation that simply reaffirms that the I-9 was completed;

(c) The employment verification affirmation is unnecessary and redundant due to existing federal I-9 requirements; and

(d) The employment verification affirmation imposes a burden on businesses that must complete the form and store it for the duration of an employee's tenure at the company.

(2) The general assembly declares that the employment verification affirmation does nothing to prevent individuals who are ineligible for employment from entering the workforce and places additional requirements on businesses that are unnecessary and redundant.
