* These costs may be initially paid from the General Fund, then reimbursed from contributions received.
  This fiscal note assumes that the new checkoff will appear on the 2016 income tax form.

Summary of Legislation

This bill creates a new income tax return checkoff to collect donations for the American Red Cross Colorado Disaster Response, Readiness, and Preparedness Fund, a registered Colorado-based 501 (c) (3) public charity organization. After subtracting the Department of Revenue's programming costs and expenses to administer contributions, the remaining money would be transferred to the fund. Money in the fund would be used by the American Red Cross Colorado Chapters to help prevent, prepare for, and respond to emergencies in assisting victims of disasters.

Background

In 1977, Colorado was the first state to create a tax "checkoff" program allowing taxpayers to voluntarily contribute to an organization on their income tax form. A total of 29 different checkoffs have raised nearly $40.0 million in donations since the program's inception in FY 1977-78.

The 15 income tax checkoffs on the 2010 individual state income tax return received $1.6 million in contributions from nearly 150,000 donations. According to state law, the total amount contributed to a checkoff must be at least $75,000 between January 1 and September 30 during the period for which moneys are collected in the third income tax year in which the program appears on the Colorado income tax form. Two programs, the Adult Stem Cells Cure Fund, and the 9Health Fair Fund, dropped off the form for the 2011 tax year. The programs were replaced by the Goodwill Industries Fund and the Families in Action for Mental Health Fund. Even if a program is extended by the legislature after it sunsets, it will not appear on the form in the following year if it does not receive at least $75,000 in donations during its third year on the individual income tax form. Table 1 provides summary information on current checkoff programs.

Totals	153,567	$1,573,110	$10.24

* These income tax checkoffs are new and reflect collections from January 2011 through June 2011. (A program in its third year is required to receive at least $75,000 to remain on the subsequent year's tax form.)

 These income tax checkoffs dropped off the 2011 form because donations were below $75,000 between January 1 and September 30, 2011. These checkoffs have been replaced on the 2011 form by the Goodwill Industries Fund and the Families in Action for Mental Health Fund.

 The category totals include the number and amount of checkoffs that no longer meet the criteria for inclusion on the state income tax form. These checkoffs are not listed in this table.

 This income tax checkoff program is not subject to the $75,000 donation requirement to remain on the income tax form.

Newly created programs and the queue. During the 2011 session, the legislature made changes to the income tax checkoff programs that established a priority order for newly-created checkoffs. Currently, there are 15 checkoff programs, the maximum allowed by law.

To ensure that the 15-checkoff cap is not exceeded, the priority order system specifies that continued or renewed programs take precedence over newly-created programs. Thus, if a program that has appeared on the form is renewed or continued and has donations of at least $75,000, the program remains on the form in the subsequent tax year. Newly-created programs can only appear on the tax form when an existing program is removed. If more than one program is placed in a queue, the order of programs is determined by the date and time that the Governor signs the bill creating the new program.

Table 2 shows the order of income tax checkoff programs in the queue as of May 2012. These programs may be added to the 2012 and subsequent tax year forms as programs drop off due to low donation levels or legislative changes.

* This queue may change as of November 1, 2012, when program contributions are certified by the Department of Revenue for the 2011 tax year.

State Revenue

The number and value of contributions to an income tax checkoff that would benefit the American Red Cross Colorado Disaster Response, Readiness, and Preparedness Fund is unknown but is expected to be more than $30,000 per year.

State Expenditures

Expenditures by the Department of Revenue for programming costs and data entry are expected to increase $29,600 when the department is ready to implement the bill. Because this legislation establishes a new program that is sixth (or last) in the queue, the $29,600 cost will likely increase based on when this program appears on the form.

Conditional impact. The impacts in this bill are considered conditional because there is no guarantee that this checkoff will appear on the income tax form in any given year as it is dependent on the position of the American Red Cross Colorado Disaster Response, Readiness, and Preparedness Fund in the queue.

Programming costs of $29,600 may occur in FY 2015-16 or subsequent years. This estimate is based on the department's experience that one checkoff program from the queue moves onto the state income tax form each year. Since this program is last in the queue of checkoff programs, programming costs will be delayed until the program appears on the state income tax year. The bill specifies that these costs are to be paid by an annual appropriation from the American Red Cross Colorado Disaster Response, Readiness, and Preparedness Fund. In the event that moneys in the fund are insufficient to cover these costs, this fiscal note assumes that the General Fund will offset the amount of any deficiency. Any amounts "loaned" to the fund will be reimbursed to the General Fund when available.

State Appropriation

No appropriation in FY 2012-13 is required. The Department of Revenue will require an appropriation of $29,600 from the American Red Cross Colorado Disaster Response, Readiness, and Preparedness Fund in FY 2015-16 or subsequent year when this new checkoff is approved for inclusion on the income tax form.
